While walking her pug in Central Park, Rory Sampson is run down by a bike. She presses charges against arrogant biker, Dr. Hack Roberts, veterinarian. Horrified at the surprising sentence from the judge, Hack plans revenge, only to find himself attracted to the sharp-tongued, soft-hearted writer, who rescues pugs. Will he ignore a previous commitment and go with his true feelings or will he guard his heart? The judge turned the tables on Rory, thrusting the unwanted, smug Dr. Roberts into her life. Wary after a breakup, she protects her wounded heart from the handsome doctor with a barrage of sarcastic come-backs, designed to keep him at arm 's length. Does she remain aloof or will loneliness force her to give in to her desires? Meet the Manhattan Dinner Club, four women who own pugs, who meet for dinner once a week. This is book one in the series.

Enclosed are poems written by one who has traveled the world and seen much yet still finds time to find the mundane amazing. Enjoy.
