This was an innovation at that time, because most marriages were arranged and the partners were of the same social class. Beginning in the late Middle Ages and the ...

One woman ' s journey to find the lost love her grandfather left behind when he fled pre-World War II Europe, and an exploration into family identity, myth, and memory. Years after her grandfather ' s death, journalist Sarah Wildman stumbled upon a cache of his letters in a file labeled " Correspondence: Patients A – G. " What she found inside weren ' t dry medical histories; instead what was written opened a path into the destroyed world that was her family ' s prewar Vienna. One woman ' s letters stood out: those from Valy—Valerie Scheffel. Her grandfather ' s lover who had remained behind when he fled Europe six months after the Nazis annexed Austria. Valy ' s name wasn ' t unknown to her—Wildman had once asked her grandmother about a dark-haired young woman whose images she found in an old photo album. " She was your grandfather ' s true love, " her grandmother said at the time, and refused any other questions. But now, with the help of the letters, Wildman started to piece together Valy ' s story. They revealed a woman desperate to escape and clinging to the memory of a love that defined her years of freedom. Obsessed with Valy ' s story, Wildman began a quest that lasted years and spanned continents. She discovered, to her shock, an entire world of other people searching for the same woman. On in the course of discovering Valy ' s ultimate fate, she was forced to reexamine the story of her grandfather ' s triumphant escape and how this history fit within her own life and in the process, she rescues a life seemingly lost to history.

Recounts how the author's marriages to Peter Jennings and the late Richard Holbrooke were shaped by the beauty and allure of Paris, where she found love and healing against a backdrop of historical events.

How does a man pick up the pieces when his world crashes around him? Misplaced priorities shattered his marriage. Problems almost crushed him. Love motivated him to mend the damage, once he found all the pieces. After only a few months of marriage, Lorraine left Dylan on a wintry night after he'd spent one too many nights out with the guys. Unable to cope with the loss, Dylan escapes the painful feelings by drinking them away. This decision costs him a year-and-a-half of his life after he stops in a little mountain town and ends up in the local jail. When he's released, he returns home in search of a job to get his life...and his wife back. An alpha werewolf. A human. A whole week of St. Valentine's celebrations. Abel's life hasn't gone according to plan. When he was just out of school, he found an omega he loved and they had a child together. Only Tristan just got mated to someone else. He is determined to enjoy more time with their daughter and be happy for his ex, but he still has too much time in his hands so when Eve's school organizes a whole week of St. Valentine's celebrations, he confronts the teacher in charge. If there's one thing Deryn knew he wanted, it was teaching, but the actual work requires long hours and a lot of thinking on his feet. Plus, in his small Welsh hometown, there isn't much socializing for a gay man that doesn't want a quickly forgotten anonymous encounter. Meeting the man of his dreams in his very classroom seems too lucky to be true, so of course it turns out Abel is the parent of one of his students.

" Charming. . . . A moving testament to the diversity and depths of love. " —Publishers Weekly You ' ll laugh, you ' ll cry, you ' ll be swept away—in less time than it takes to read this paragraph. Here are 175 true stories—honest, funny, tender and wise—each as moving as a lyric poem, all told in no more than one hundred words. An electrician lights up a woman ' s life, a sister longs for her homeless brother, strangers dream of what might have been. Love lost, found and reclaimed. Love that ' s romantic, familial, platonic and unexpected. Most of all, these stories celebrate love as it exists in real life: a silly remark that leads to a lifetime together, a father who struggles to remember his son, ordinary moments that burn bright.

" Will leave readers swooning. " —PopSugar When Dimple Met Rishi meets Ugly Delicious in this funny, smart romantic comedy, in which two Vietnamese American teens fall in love and must navigate their newfound relationship amid their families ' age-old feud about their competing, neighboring restaurants. If Bao Nguyen had to describe himself, he ' d say he was a rock. Steady and strong, but not particularly interesting. His grades are average, his social status unremarkable. He works at his parents ' pho restaurant, and even there, he is his parents ' fifth favorite employee. Not ideal. If Linh Mai had to describe herself, she ' d say she was a firecracker. Stable when unlit, but full of potential for joy and fire. She loves art and dreams pursuing a career in it. The only problem? Her parents rely on her in ways they ' re not willing to admit, including working practically full-time at her family ' s pho restaurant. For years, the Mais and the Nguyens have been at odds, having owned competing, neighboring pho restaurants. Bao and Linh, who ' ve avoided each other for most of their lives, both suspect that the feud stems from feelings much deeper than friendly competition. But then a chance encounter brings Linh and Bao in the same vicinity despite their best efforts and sparks fly, leading them both to wonder what took so long for them to connect. But then, of course, they immediately remember. Can Linh and Bao find love in the midst of feuding families and complicated histories?
