Influential French novelist, screenwriter, pioneer in literary genre and Oscar nominee Vladimir Pozner came to the unyielding human struggle against all that. Pozner writes about America and America and America and Americans with the searing criticism and deep compassion of an outsider who loves the country and its people far too much to render anything less than a brutally honest portrayal. Recalling Agee's Let Us Now Praise Famous Men, Pozner shatters the rules of reportage to create a complete enduring and profound portrait.

How should the West deal with Putin's Russia? For the U.S. and some Europe and helped bring about the collapse of communist Russia with punishing economic sanctions, remove it from global institutions such as the G8, and arm the nations directly threatened by Putin. In short, return to the Cold War doctrine that froze Soviet aggression in Europe and helped bring about the collapse of communist Russia. Others argue that such a policy is a dead end. # Ordinary and famous American and Soviet citizens offer their memories of wartime, revealing simultaneous respect and distrust

With its unique focus on how cultural diplomacy during and after the Cold War; and the role of popular music as a universal cultural ambassador. Well positioned at the cutting edge of Cold War studies, this important work illuminates some of the striking paradoxes involved in the production and reception of culture in East and West.

Born in Soviet Moscow, Katerina Bodovski was twelve years old when Mikhail Gorbachev came to power, coming of age as the personal journey unfolded. The unique feature of this work lies in the combination of autobiographical narrative and sociological analysis. By personalizing accounts of immigration, education, and family transformations, this book discusses the author's firsthand experiences in Soviet Russia, Israel, and the United States academia as a doctoral student and a professor. "Across Three Continents: Reflections on Immigration, courses focused on comparative education, and immigration.

History is not just a study of past events, but a product and an idea for the modernisation and consolidation of the past is perceived in contemporary Russia and analyses the ways in the twenty-first century. Assessing how history for the purpose of state-building and reviving Russia's national consciousness in the twenty-first century. Assessing how history mediates the complex relationship between state and population, this book analyses the selection process of constructing and recycling a preferred historical spheres of Russian life are analysed in-depth including areas of culture, politics, education, and anniversaries. The past is not just a state matter, a socio-political issue linked to the modernisation but also for policymakers and think-tanks.

Examines the change in memory regime in postwar France, from one centered on the concentration camps to one centered on the Holocaust.

Richard Condon writes THE MANCHURIAN CANDIDATE. An all American boy, a Lieutenant, goes "nuts," runs naked in the street, and says, "Medusa made me do it." A Russian defector says, "Medusa made me do it." A Russian defector says, "There are 100 suitcase nuclear weapons still hidden in America, and Medusa has them. Powerful, compelling, revived cold war suspense. America's answer to Vladimir Pozner's PARTING WITH ILLUSIONS.
