"Speedy, exhilarating, and smooth. Nobody does it better." —Washington Post "The man knows how to grab you—and Pronto is one of the best grabbers in years." —Entertainment Weekly Fans of U.S. Marshal Raylan Givens of the hit TV series Justified are in for a major treat. The unstoppable manhunter with the very itchy trigger finger stars in Pronto, a crime fiction gem from the one and only Elmore Leonard, "the greatest crime writer of our time, perhaps ever" (New York Times Book Review). The Grand Master justifies the overwhelming acclaim he has received over the course of his remarkable career with an electrifying thriller that sends the indomitable Raylan racing to Italy on the trail of a fugitive bookie who's hiding from the vengeful Miami mob. The legendary Leonard, whom the Seattle Times lauds as the "King Daddy of crime writers," proves that all comparisons to American noir icons John D. MacDonald, Dashiell Hammett, and James M. Cain are well deserved with this tale of very dirty doings and extremely dangerous men coming together in the birthplace of Puccini, Garibaldi, and La Cosa Nostra.

The Pronto Uranium Mines, Limited, a subsidiary of the Rio Tinto Company, Limited, started producing a uranium concentrate in August 1955. The laboratory and pilot plant evaluation of Pronto uranium concentrate is presented in this report. This concentrate meets all FMPC impurity tolerance limits except those for thorium and chloride. The thorium limit can be met by the addition of phosphate as required for thorium-containing uranium concentrates. Blending of this material with a high-quality, low-chloride-content uranium concentrate will be necessary to lower the chloride content below the tolerance limit. Digestion and extraction tests indicate that new receipts of Pronto concentrate can be processed in the FMPC refinery using the suggested operating conditions.
