"How many answers can one problem generate? Dr. Rambo, an experienced professor of a COAMFTE accredited masters program, Dr. West, President of the AAMFT Regulatory Board, Dr. Schooley, past president of FAMFT, and Tommie Boyd, an experienced chair and professor, begin to answer this question in an edited text that introduces a basic case example that prominent practitioners from each model of family therapy examine. Readers will see what questions are asked from each models perspective, how practitioners of one model will define the problem versus how
