As you might expect Venice, Four Seasons of Home Cooking is laid out in the order of the seasons coinciding with specific markets, where to get the best meat, fish etc. Russell badgered, cajoled and charmed his way with local chefs, neighbours, their relatives and friends of friends to find authentic details about the food they eat seasonally. This book is as much a diary as it is a cookbook and more than that it's a heartfelt love letter to Venice.

On the cover of Russell Norman's new cookery book Venice, Four Seasons of Home Cooking, it states 'author of Polpo' the book from the eponymous restaurant which changed the way we looked at Venetian food. It offered an insight into small plates (a portion size not made up by Shoreditch hipsters but genuinely what is served in Venetian bars).
